Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender Center, Minnesota State University, Mankato. Oral History Interviews, 2004. SMHC Manuscript Collection 228. 1 Hollinger box, .33 cubic feet.

ABSTRACT:

These interviews were conducted by Kellian Clink for her thesis, "A History of the Center for Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Students on the Campus of Minnesota State University, Mankato." For this thesis, Clink interviewed people who had worked in the center between 1977 and 2004.

HISTORICAL NOTE:

The Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Center began in 1977 under the leadership of Jim Chalgren, a graduate student at Mankato State University. The organization attempted to provide support, resources, activities, and information to the institution's student body. In the process, the LGBC became one of the first organizations of its kind on university campuses. During the Center's history, the organization has held numerous names ranging from the Alternative Lifestyles Office to the Gay Concerns Office.

For more information about the center, see their website at: <http://www.mnsu.edu/lgbtc/>.
