

Donations for Sioux Reservation children being solicited by Anthropology Club

The Anthropology Club is holding its second annual Donations Drive for children and families of the Cheyenne River Sioux Reservation in South Dakota.

The Anthropology Club is holding its second annual Donations Drive for children and families of the Cheyenne River Sioux Reservation in South Dakota.

This reservation is one of the more impoverished in the region, and the Anthropology Club is soliciting donations to make Christmas a reality again this year for its residents. Club members are accepting donations in the form of new and unwrapped toys, non-perishable food, warm winter clothing, pet care products and other supplies.

Donations may be left from now until Friday, Dec. 15, at the Anthropology Department Office (TN 358), Multicultural Affairs (CSU 243) or, during finals week, at the CSU drop-off table between the Food Court and Barnes & Noble.

Those who have questions may e-mail jeffery.brand@mnsu.edu or call the Anthropology Department Office at (507) 389-6504.
