

MTV personality to speak at IMPACT talk Nov. 27

Ruthie Alcaide of MTV's Real World: Hawaii will discuss how people can step outside of their comfort zones in an IMPACT talk on Monday, Nov. 27.

Ruthie Alcaide of MTV's "Real World: Hawaii" will discuss how people can step outside of their comfort zones in an IMPACT talk on Monday, Nov. 27.

The talk, free and open to the public, is at 7 p.m. in the Centennial Student Union Ballroom. Tickets for the free event are required and are available in the SLD & SL office or the Women's Center.

Alcaide will explain how people can change by doing things with people who make them uncomfortable. Some of Alcaide's change examples: Socializing with people who come from different backgrounds; participating in community service; and opening up to others.

Those who want more information should contact DeShaun McDonald, IMPACT Performing Arts chair.
